THE HONORED GUEST.

A BRIEF CHAPTER FOR WIVES.

"Well," said I, one fine morning last week, I have the prospect of a leisme afternoon, a somewhat unusual thing for me. and all being well. I will do a little needful shopping; call and pass an hour with my old friend Mrs Ashburton, whom on ac count of the distance I have neglected of late; and then drop in and take a friendly cup of tea with my niece Clara Whitford." Having completed my household arrangements, I accordingly set out after an early dinner, and the shopping done, made my first call. Mrs Ashburton's warm welcome, pleasant talk, and cheerful fireside, would have proved strong temptations to remain for the evening, had I not felt anxious to see my niece, whose residence was much neater my own

How much would this sixpence a day put by every veir at five per cent. compound interest, a mount to in sixty years, inquired a thought ful neighbor? Putting down the first year's saving (36) sexpences) equal to $43 54, he added the interest, and thus went on year by year, until he found that in the 60th year the sixpence a day reached the startling sum of $14,330 28. Judge of the old man's surprise when told that by saving his sixpence a day and depositing it in a Savings Institution he might now, at the end of 60 years, been worth that noble sum $14,336 28, which would have bought him a fine Farm, or Town Mansion; and sarrounded him with comforts and luxuries, and left a handsome estate to his children after him. He had, and hundreds now in our midst have, but to deposit sixpence a day in the Farmers' and Mechanics' Saving. Institution of Adams county to accomplish this result.

All who understand the enring of disease know that medicines only assist nature, and unless they act and harmonize with nature, Single copies will be sent by mail, postage disease cannot be enjed. Want of a proper paid, to every flarmer, every Mechanic, every knowledge of these facts causes many of our Man of Bisiness and every body in every State, fellow citizens to go down to an untimely I can therefore recommend this preparatun with the utmost confidence, and am fulside of the sick, that it will give very general, if not universal satisfaction. Yet, at the same time, I do not pictend to say that it is a constant, or that it is, in all cases and circum-tances, infallible. For when a remedy is set forth as "Cure-All," "Infallible," &c, the conclusion with me is irresistible, that the proprietor himself believes his remedy to be a humbug, and designed from the start to deceive the public.
